STEP 7: “Humbly asked Him to remove our shortcomings.”

“When ready, we say something like this: ‘My Creator, I am now willing that you should have all of me, good and bad. I pray that you now remove from me every single defect of character which stands in the way of my usefulness to you and my fellows. Grant me strength, as I go out from here, to do your bidding. Amen.’ We have then completed Step Seven.”

God as We Understand God

"God is subtle, but...not malicious."

- Albert Einstein

Recovery is an intensely spiritual process that asks us to grow in our understanding of God. We may wonder if God is as shaming and frightening as people can be. Trying to understand God may bog-gle our mind... We can learn to trust God, anyway. My understanding has not grown on an intellectual level, but because of what I have experienced...God is real. Loving. Good...The more we thank God for who God is, who we are, and the exact nature of our present circumstances, the more God acts in our behalf. In fact, all along, God planned to act in our behalf...God has shown me, beyond all else, that how I come to understand God is not nearly as important as knowing that God understands me.

- The Language of Letting Go, p. 196

TRADITION 6

"Every A.A. group ought to be fully self-supporting, declining outside contributions."

"To people familiar with endless drives for charitable funds, A.A. presented a strange and refreshing spectacle...the irresponsible had become responsible."
