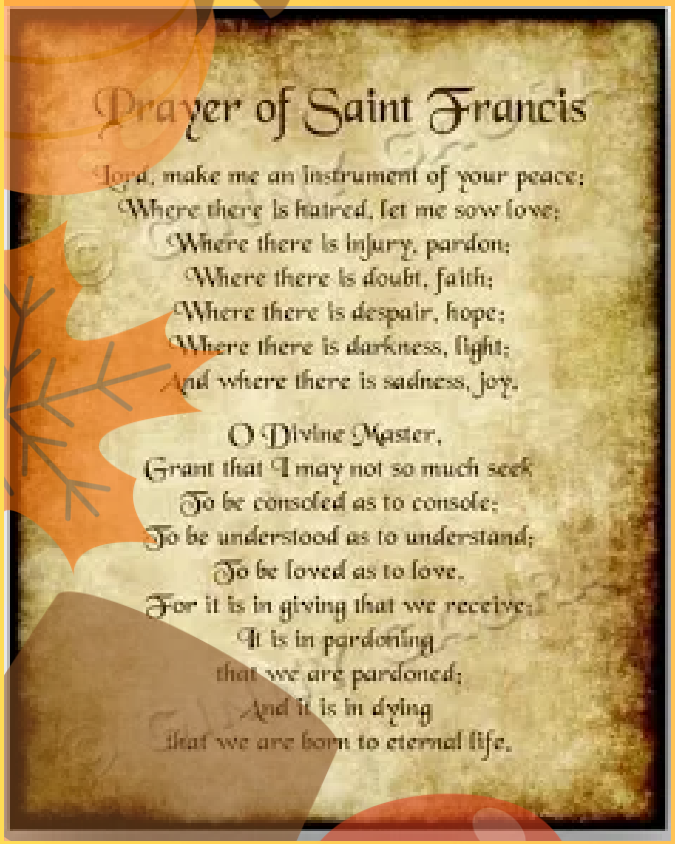
11th Step

Sought through prayer and meditation to improve our conscious contact with God as we understood Him, praying only for knowledge of His will for us and the power to carry that out



Fundamentals of the 11th step

To complete Step 11 of the 12-step recovery program, you improve conscious contact with a higher power through daily prayer and meditation, seeking only the knowledge of that power's will and the strength to carry it out. Recovery.com

Daily Morning Routine

- Upon waking: Spend time in quiet reflection before starting the day's plans.
- Set your intentions: Pray to have your thinking directed away from self-pity, dishonesty, resentment, and fear.
- Ask for guidance: Request wisdom to know what to do and the strength to follow through, rather than asking for selfish outcomes. YouTube·Big Book for Dummies +1

Daily Pause and Reflection

- Pause during the day: When faced with indecision, stress, or arguments, stop and ask for an intuitive thought or quiet inspiration
- Check your motives: Evaluate your actions to ensure they come from a place of love, honesty, and unselfishness. Big Book Sponsorship +1

Evening Review

- Review your day: Before sleep, look back over the past 24 hours.
- Acknowledge mistakes: Note where you acted out of fear, anger, or selfishness, make amends if needed, and let go of the need to control everything of Alcoholics Anonymous establishes that public relations should be based on attraction rather than promotion, emphasizing personal anonymity at the level of press, radio, and films.

The 11th Tradition

Core Principles

- Attraction vs. Promotion: A.A. does not market, advertise, or sell itself. Instead, growth happens naturally when people witness the recovered lives of its members or hear about the program through word of mouth and organic media interest. AA Meetings in Santa Clarita Valley +1

Personal Anonymity: Members must protect their identities and the identities of others at public media levels—including press, radio, television, films, and nowadays the internet.
